The Hiring Manager,

Accord Medical Supplies Limited,

Dear Hiring Manager,

RE: Application for the Position of Human Resource Officer

I am writing to apply for the Human Resource Officer position. With a Bachelor of Science in Human Resource Management, four years of practical HR experience and professional membership with the Institute of Human Resource Management (IHRM), I offer direct experience across recruitment, onboarding, employee records, HR administration, payroll support, leave and attendance management, employee relations and HR compliance.

In my role as HR Assistant at SOET CBO, I supported day to day HR service delivery and the employee lifecycle from appointment and onboarding through performance management and separation. I coordinated recruitment activities, prepared candidate documentation, arranged interviews and communicated with applicants. I also maintained personnel files and HR databases, monitored leave and attendance records, prepared HR reports and supported payroll by verifying employee information, attendance data and staff changes. These responsibilities have strengthened my ability to manage competing HR priorities accurately while maintaining confidentiality.

My earlier experience at KUCCPS further strengthened my recruitment and HR administration expertise. I supported recruitment from vacancy preparation and job advertising through shortlisting, interview scheduling, candidate communication, background and reference-check coordination, offer and regret letters, and onboarding. I also maintained physical and electronic employee files in accordance with Kenya Data Protection Act requirements and prepared monthly HR and payroll related reports. At the Teachers Service Commission, I gained additional experience in employee documentation, records management, recruitment administration, leave and attendance records, HR databases and routine employee enquiries.

I bring a practical understanding of Kenyan employment requirements, including the Employment Act, Labour Relations Act, occupational safety and health requirements, work injury benefits requirements and data protection principles. My proficiency in HRIS/HRMIS, Microsoft Office and HR reporting enables me to maintain reliable employee information and support evidence based HR administration.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the opportunity to discuss how my HR experience and technical capabilities can contribute to your organisation.

Yours sincerely,

Laban Kesis Sang'ut
